

TRANSITION KS2-3: Reaching Y6, Keeping Y7

Trainer: Sarah Osbourne
Date: Thursday 21st February
Time: 9.00am—3.15pm
Location: Selby High School,

Course description

The National Year of Reading will take place in 2008 - ten years on from the first Year of Reading - to promote reading for pleasure in the family and beyond and help to build a nation of readers. This workshop will look at why reading for pleasure should be a priority in schools and will provide the practical ideas and tools needed to develop a whole-school reading culture. There will be a particular focus on bridging the primary-secondary transfer gap and family engagement.

The ideas workshop is a chance for us all to share any ideas we have for tackling KS2-3 Transition. Bring along details of any events you have run, visits you have made or experiences you have had! We can all go home with new plans for next year.

Trainer

Sarah Osborne is Reading Connects and Reading Champions Project Manager at The National Literacy Trust.

White Rose Books

White Rose Books of Thirsk will be in attendance all day and there will be plenty of opportunity to browse. They are happy to accept cash or official orders for anything purchased.

Outline of the day

9.00	Tea, coffee and welcome
9.30	Sarah Osbourne, Reading Connects
10.45	Refreshment break
11.00	Sarah Osbourne, Reading Connects
12.00	AGM and Bookshop
12.30	Lunch
1.15	Ideas workshop
3.00	Plenary
3.15	End

Book by 8th February